

Abstract

Štochlová, M.: Communication media (television, radio, press) like present facilities for human „portraiture“ /bachelor thesis/ Prague 2011 - Charles University, Faculty of education, 69 p.

Theoretical studies of the relationship of human and the communication media. The study aims to capture the current form of portraiture. Work includes general information about human communication, the possibilities and types of media, but also presents several artists from art dealing with the topic of the presentation of human identity in the media.

Keywords: human face, portrait, communication, media, mass media, media presentation